Current professional activities

David has a reputation for finding solutions and has a valuable network.

For over 20 years David has specialised in insolvency, restructure and turnaround and has significant experience in financial due diligence, forensic accounting and litigation support for disputes and Court appointed matters.

David is a trusted advisor to accountants, lawyers, fund managers and stakeholders of financially distressed businesses and businesses confronted with unexpected events or dispute.

Where necessary, David accepts appointment as voluntary administrator, deed administrator, scheme administrator, liquidator, receiver, and Court appointments. He has held senior positions at KPMG and PKF (now BDO).

Briefs are becoming more about business problems, and solving those problems, than formal appointments.

Industry experience

Accommodation and food services, agribusiness, construction and property, education and training, healthcare, pharmacy, manufacturing, mining services, professional and personal services, retail trade, wholesale trade, transport, warehousing, distribution, technology and communications.

Co-ordination of complex negotiations

David has co-ordinated complex or commercially sensitive negotiations with a wide range of stakeholders to achieve or negotiate outcomes, or failing that, to prepare for mediation or litigation. Stakeholders include accountants, lawyers, financiers, directors, shareholders, business owners, unions across a broad spectrum.

Relationships

David is known for his strong local knowledge, connections and professional associations, and his outcome-driven focus achieves results. He maintains an excellent reputation in the market to build trust and achieve results, quickly and efficiently, on large and small matters, nationally.
